Cadillac & LaSalle Club Technicians

Technicians provide advice as volunteers in an effort to assist CLC members. Technicians correspond directly with the CLC member who makes the inquiry, and the CLC has no ability to review or monitor any advice or information provided by a Technician. Generally, the Technician has no opportunity to inspect the automobile about which the inquiry is made.

The CLC is not responsible for, and does not guarantee the correctness of any advice or information provided by a Technician. Each CLC member who makes an inquiry to a Technician acts at his or her own risk in using the advice or information received, and is responsible for verifying the accuracy of any such advice or information.

Contacting Club Technicians

Club technicians indicate that they are always ready to talk old cars, but there are some limits to their generosity.

FIRST CONTACT—The best method for initial contact is by letter or e-mail versus playing telephone tag. When contacting a Club technician for advice, call if you wish, but please do not expect individuals not at home to call back. Since car talk can get lengthy, the cost to the technician, an uncompensated volunteer, can become excessive. Many long-distance plans are charged at a flat rate, but some are not, so try calling the technician again at a later date if possible.

WHEN TO CALL—Avoid major holidays [e.g. Thanksgiving, Christmas]. Families tend to get concerned when members are called away from holiday festivities. Also, please be cognizant of time zones.

If you cannot find a technician from this list who does not specialize in the area you are looking for, please submit your inquiry to:
